

PALM BEACH ARTSPAPER

News and reviews from the arts in and around Palm Beach County

Weekend arts picks

Written by Palm Beach ArtsPaper Staff

A wall sculpture made of clothespins and plastic forks by Federico Uribe. (Photo by Ed Sheahan)

Art: The biggest news in the local art world this weekend is artpalmbeach, which opened Friday night. Featuring more than 70 dealers and special exhibition spaces, this show at the Palm Beach County Convention Center looks every bit as dynamic as the Art Basel Show last December.

Not to be missed is the huge installation by Colombian-born artist Federico Uribe, represented by Praxis International Art. This young sculptor has created an amazing environment of farm animals and jungle critters and living room scenes using shoes, pencils and boards as his materials. In the gallery area, he has created bronze-looking sunbursts from house paintbrushes and another from clothespins and plastic forks. You'll want to spend some time looking at his astonishing work.

Yvonne Parker and her sculpture, Flight of Fantasy. (Photo by Ed Sheahan)

In the International Sculpture Institute booth, Flamingo Park snowbird and sculptor Yvonne Parker is displaying her 7-foot-tall sculpture Flight of Fantasy. Parker uses fragmented pieces of porcelain, ceramics, wires and memorabilia to fashion her intricate work, inspired by Antoni Gaudi and Niki de Saint Phalle.

Mixed Flowers with Yellow Roses, by Marci Gigli King.

Across from Parker is the Ellen Liman Gallery from Palm Beach, which is featuring three artists: Marcia Gigli King, Louis Finkelstein and Arthur Carter. King's paintings are large and graphically captivating, technically excellent with a feeling of batik or monoprints. King is a Texas artist with an MFA and a long résumé of exhibitions and museum collections. Artpalmbeach also offers an impressive list of lectures by major curators, collectors and artists. The fair hours are noon to 7 p.m. Saturday through Monday, and noon to 6 p.m. Tuesday.